Fresh Air Squadrons Are Going Into Action In Tunisia Battle

(G. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Dec. 9.—American tank forces and Allied troops of the British First Army, after smashing back a German wedge driven into their defense lines in the Tebourba area of Tunisia, were reported holding firmly today against renewed Axis attacks.

Allied headquarters in North Africa said that its armored units loosed a strong counter-attack after the Nazis had penetrated one position on the Tebourba battle front and forced the enemy to withdraw.

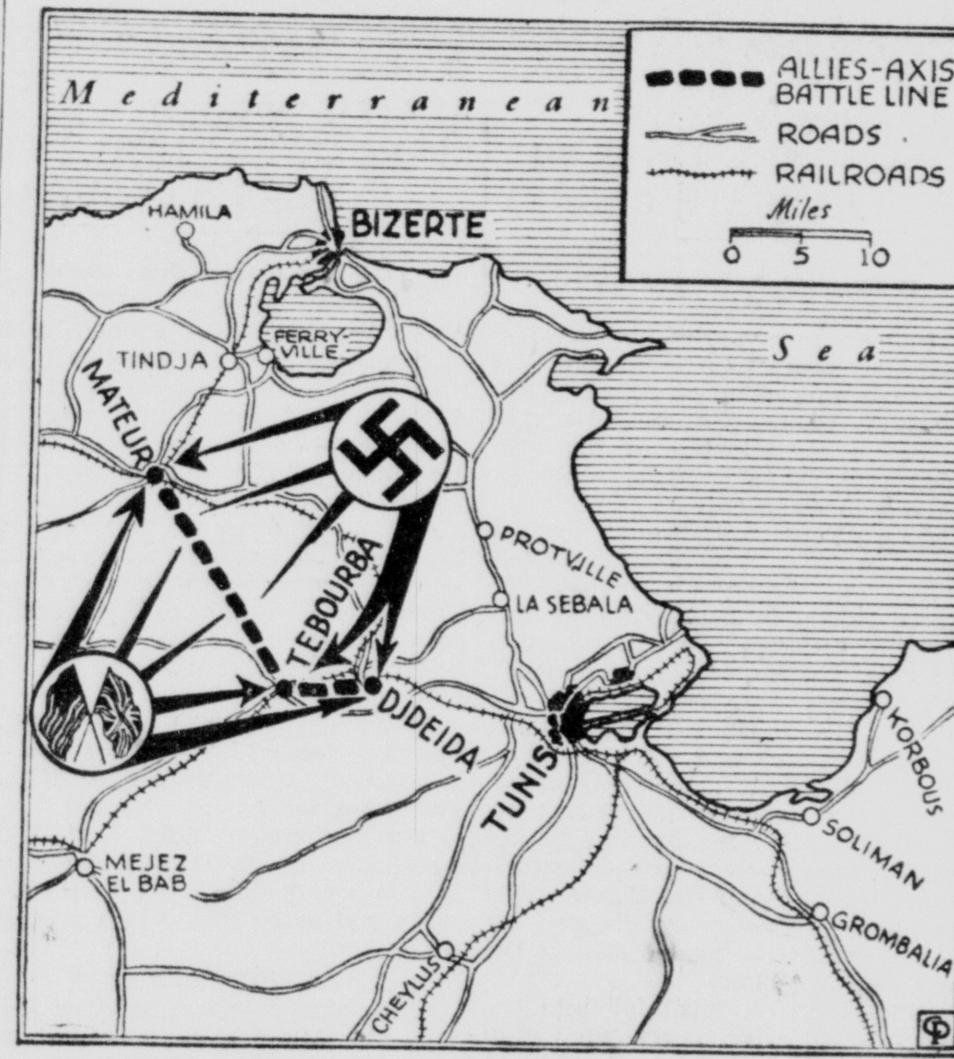

Unofficial reports from the battle area said that German assaults southwest of Tebourba, 20 miles west of Tunis, the capital, and 35 miles south of the naval base of Bizerte, were countered by two strong Allied thrusts.

The Nazis advance into Allied positions in the Tebourba sector was wiped out when sizeable air reinforcements were brought up to provide a cover for counter-attacking ground units.

Victory Bond Workers Push Local Drive

Campaign For $5,400,000
Securities Sales Is Progressing Most Encouragingly

Volunteer workers striving feverishly to reach their county goal of $5,400,000, today carried the Lawrence County Victory Bond campaign into offices, stores and homes.

Judge W. Walter Braham, chairman of the campaign army which set out on its task Monday morning at a "Remember Pearl Harbor" rally in the Cathedral, reported early reports "most encouraging."

He said it was "too soon" to make public any campaign totals, but promised to provide figures within a day or so.

Driving force behind the campaign was the determined corps of workers who put across the United War Fund drive here so successfully within recent days—and which now is carrying on for the Victory Bond organization.

Lawrence county's goal in the sale of government securities is $5,400,000, and that New Castle is expected to raise $4,500,000.

Allied Bombers Smash New Jap Effort At Buna

Fifth Attempt To Reinforce Beleaguered Garrison In New Guinea Foiled

DESTROYERS FORCED TO TURN AND FLEE

Lead Destroyer Is Set Afire By Bombers—Buna Situation Little Changed

By LEE VAN ATTA
(G. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, Dec. 9.—Heavy Allied bombers have smashed a fifth Japanese attempt to send in sea-borne reinforcements to their beleaguered garrison at Buna, New Guinea, setting fire to the lead destroyer among a squadron of six and forcing the remainder to turn tail, it was officially announced today.

American and Australian ground forces at the same time smashed a strong counter-attack by Jap troops in the Buna area, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

Two direct hits were scored with 500-pound bombs on the lead destroyer which was quickly enveloped in flames and the remaining five in the convoy fled, a communiqué from Allied headquarters said.

Bomb Airdrome At Sea

While Allied aircraft harassed the Japs throughout the battle area the United Nations bombers unleashed a new attack against the Jap airdrome at Lae, northeast New Guinea. Explosions and resultant fires destroyed fuel and ammunition dumps. The enemy airdrome at Gasmata, on the south coast of New Britain, also was bombed and strafed. At the northern New Britain base of Rabaul two Jap fighter planes were shot out of the sky by Allied airmen.

The communiqué states that activity in forward areas yesterday was limited to patrolling.

2. Additional reports disclosed that 20 enemy tanks were destroyed during operations on Dec. 6.

3. Further details on our air operations during recent days show that three enemy aircraft were destroyed, one of them at night. Two more of our planes were lost, but one fighter pilot is safe.

Japs Pay Heavily

The Japs have paid heavily for their occupation of the American islands of Attu and Kiska since they invaded the undefended outposts last June. Their losses to date have been more than 51 planes destroyed and 47 ships sunk and damaged.

Since American forces now are operating from an excellent airfield on the Andreanof islands, approximately 250 miles from Kiska, it is considered unlikely that the battered enemy garrison can be reinforced or strengthened greatly.

In the southern Solomons, the enemy is virtually in the same predicament because U. S. land, sea and air forces have tightened their control on the Guadalcanal area since the smashing American sea-victory November 13.

No Jap Supplies At Solomons

Since then, practically no Jap supplies or reinforcements have been moved into Guadalcanal, while U. S. Marines and ground troops on the island have gradually extended their positions around the

Supplemental Gas May Be Secured

International News Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The office of price administration ruled today that motorists in eastern states, where the "A" gasoline ration coupon is worth only three gallons, will be eligible for supplemental rations if they can prove need for more than 90 miles of occupational driving a month.

Previously, holders of "A" books were required to use 150 miles a month of their "A" book mileage for occupational purposes, before they became eligible for supplemental rations.

The action was necessary, OPA said, to assure eastern motorists result of the recently "A" coupon reduction, which cut the average necessary occupational mileage as mileage of "A" books from 240 miles to 180 miles a month.

ACTION OCCURS IN GUADALCANAL AREA

Ten Cruisers And Destroyers In Force Seeking To Reach Besieged Japs

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(G. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—United States dive bombers and torpedo planes have broken up another enemy attempt to rush reinforcements into the southern Solomons, and in an attack 150 miles off Guadalcanal, sank one Japanese warship and set fire to three others, the navy announced today.

The American striking group blasted two Japanese cruisers with 1,000-pound bombs and scored torpedo hits on two other cruisers or destroyers.

The navy did not identify the vessel which was sunk but it was one of the four listed as hit by the American bombs.

Three others were sighted in flames the next day.

The navy said the action occurred on Dec. 3 when the American planes from Guadalcanal attacked an enemy force of about ten cruisers and destroyers which were heading for the embattled island apparently to reinforce the isolated Japanese garrison.

Allied Bombers Hit Base At Bizerte

Enemy Destroyer Struck By Bomb

Fuel Dump And Large Building Are Also Struck By Bombs

OTHER PLACES ARE UNDER BOMB ATTACK

(BULLETIN)

CAIRO, Dec. 9.—Heavy allied bombers, smashing a telling blow against the Axis-held Tunisian naval base of Bizerte, scored a direct hit on an enemy destroyer and blasted a fuel dump and a large building, the middle east high command revealed today. The docks and seaplane base at Bizerte also were heavily hit.

The communiqué said other allied planes successfully attacked the Tunis-Gabes railway line skirting the east coast of Tunisia.

The Axis base of Misurata, 130 miles east of Tripoli and airdromes near Homs, midway between Misurata and Tripoli, underwent attacks by heavy bombers.

Attack Transport Planes

Long-range fighters, the communiqué said, attacked Axis transport planes off Lampedusa Island, shooting down three and destroying an escorting fighter. Other enemy planes were reported damaged. Two allied planes were lost.

Increased air activity was reported over the battle area in eastern Libya.

Allied fighter-bombers attacked the enemy landing ground at Marble Arch near El Aghella and in an ensuing dogfight shot down at least seven Axis fighters and damaged many others.

Concerning ground forces of the British Eighth army closing in on El Aghella, the communiqué said only that British patrols were active in the forward areas.

TURIN AGAIN BLASTED BY BRITISH RAIDERS

Wellington bombers, many capable of carrying four-ton missiles, took part in the attack.

Weather over the target area was clear and results of the assault were believed to have been good. One of the Royal Air Force bombers was reported missing.

The attack was the twelfth in the series of raids against northern Italy since the British began their round of assaults to knock out Italian war industries and Mediterranean ports.

The force which streaked across the continent during the night on the 1,500-mile round-trip journey was believed to be of considerable size since English coast residents reported that they heard wave upon wave of bombers cross the Dover Straits in a continuous procession for over an hour.

JOHN CARLIN ARTIST IN SYMPHONY CONCERT

JOHN CARLIN

John Carlin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Carlin of Greenwood avenue, this city, and an added link to New Castle's spotlight of outstanding musicians, will be heard on the 1942-43 concert series of the Youngstown Symphony orchestra Thursday evening, December 10, at 8:30 o'clock in Stambaum auditorium. Many are attending from this vicinity.

The 17-year-old pianist, and Ne-Ca-Hi student, is a winner of the young artists' prelude, being chosen out of 21. He made his debut in 1940 at the home of Mrs. Charles Weick in Youngstown, and has made appearances before large audiences in New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Canton, Youngstown and New Castle. January 13 he will appear in Pittsburgh under the auspices of the South Hills College club.

Ralph Lewando, music critic of the Pittsburgh Press, and Mrs. Charlotte Williams of Cleveland, music instructor at Mount Union college, were judges in the recent decision, and both are enthusiastic over Carlin's talent.

Carlin is winner of the piano section of the young artists' prelude sponsored by the women's committee of the Youngstown Symphony society. Having studied with Mrs. Mary E. Fankhauser of New Castle and Youngstown, Carlin was acclaimed at a recent concert in Cleveland by Arthur Loesser to be endowed musically with that rare spark of genius. Ralph Lewando claims "Carlin is an expressive player with a fine feeling for innate musical values. His technical ability fulfills the demands and his playing style is assured."

For his number Thursday evening, Carlin will play the First Movement of MacDowell's Concerto, No. 2, in D Minor. The concerto is rarely done and this is its first performance in Youngstown. Carlin states "The Concerto" is extremely difficult to play with an orchestra, being so very flexible in rhythm. It's typical MacDowell, very masculine in its sudden changes in tone, with an incessant rise and fall not often written in the music."

TAU DELTA CLASS HAS YULETIDE PARTY

College club members enjoyed a Yuletide tea party in The Castleton on Tuesday evening with the holiday spirit reigning. Christmas carols were sung during the evening, with Mrs. William J. Caldwell leading, and Mrs. Kathryn Allen, accompanist.

Informality was the keynote, and games enjoyed were planned to make the group better acquainted. Maximizing the round of features, Santa Claus in the person of Miss Mary VanDyke appeared on the scene in proper attire and added a bit of spark with the distribution of gifts. The colorfully wrapped packages were passed around to the group, and to musical accompaniment, the first owner was delighted by the last note sounded.

Tea and dainty refreshments were served at the close, with president, Miss Ruth G. Sample and Mrs. Orville Brown pouring. The next meeting on January 12 will feature Dr. G. S. Bennett, speaker on the program.

TAU DELTA CLASS HAS YULETIDE PARTY

Tau Delta class members of Epworth Methodist church met Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Mildred Lusk on Hillcrest avenue, with Elizabeth Chamberlain as hostess.

Miss Dorothy Depp conducted the religious period, and routine affairs followed. Miss Depp, Jane Young and Esther Young were appointed to take charge of a special holiday project.

After the singing of Christmas carols, cleverly wrapped packages were distributed, and when opened were found to contain a discarded household "white elephant" gift, the highlighting prank of the evening.

Lunch was served at the close, and on each tray was found a compensating personal remembrance.

BUY BONDS TODAY TO WIN THE WAR

THE American people don't need to be told why this is the day when they should pledge anew their effort to the supreme task of winning the war.

Most evident is the increasing responsibility of our own rich and powerful nation for the successful outcome of this gigantic struggle for human victory.

It must not fail. It cannot fail if every one of us, man, woman and child, resolves to enlist, not tomorrow, not next week, but today. For a new, intensive campaign on the home front has put us all in Class 1-A.

Our brave defenders on far-distant battlefields are prepared to give their lives for their country and freedom's cause. We are asked not to give but to lend our dollars, which the alchemy of our mighty industries so quickly transforms into guns and ships, tanks, airplanes and ammunition to smash the barbarians and remove forever any further fear of their cruel aggressions.

The December War Bond campaign has set a magnificent figure for its goal. Neither our nor any other government had ever sought to borrow such a stupendous sum as nine billion dollars from its people at one time.

The splendid co-operation already manifested on every hand is most encouraging. There's no red tape about buying these War Bonds, no complicated or confusing process. They are on sale virtually everywhere.

Money talks. Let's make it tell our enemies that their days are numbered. And never fear that our fighting men will make that message good. Buy those War Bonds today.

PILLARS OF MORALE

From London recently came the story that the last movie that General Eisenhower saw before taking charge of North African operations was "Road to Morocco." General Eisenhower must have smiled to himself at the prophetic accuracy of Hollywood, but this accuracy of Hollywood was not admitted to the secrets of grand strategy. The arrival wherever American armed forces are stationed of the latest and best pictures is no accident, however. It is part of a war service of the industry that has been too little noticed. If American soldiers and sailors and Marines are fighting for the American way of life, part of that way of life is the visit to the neighborhood theatre. Not all the American way of life can follow the American to New Guinea, North Africa, the Solomons or Iceland, but films can and do. When General Eisenhower saw an American movie, he saw what is equally available to the American buck private in the furthest reaches of our battle line.

FOR SIMPLE INAUGURAL

Recommending of Gov.-Elect Edward Martin that his inauguration ceremonies be "simple and dignified" will meet with state-wide commendation.

Gen. Martin knows war. He knows its grim cost on the battle-front. He knows its demands on the home front.

Little wonder then that he finds no place in these tragic days for the "big show" that is put on every four years in Harrisburg.

The governor-elect has suggested to the inaugural committee that the great political pageant be omitted this time for simpler ceremonies.

He wants Pennsylvania's war workers to stay on their jobs. He wants them to save tires, gasoline and money.

And he doesn't think this is a time for celebration of political triumph.

He has suggested, too, that the inaugural ball, always a dazzling function, be given for the benefit of the men in the armed forces.

Gen. Martin has set a wartime inaugural pattern for other incoming governors to follow.

HEALTH OF AMERICANS

Vice President Henry Wallace, optimist and propagandist, maintains that political and economic rights are not enough. One of the fundamental rights of democracy, he holds, is good health.

When democracy is strengthened by this most fundamental right to health and vigor," he says, "then at last we shall have the benefit of the people's best efforts in governing themselves and in running their own social and economic affairs."

A look around might convince many who haven't thought much about it that this right is now being rather widely practiced. The good physique found in most of our military recruits, even before their building and toughening, is rather surprising. American youth is mostly in good shape, and men and women of middle age seem healthier than their parents and grandparents were at the same time of life.

How is such reassuring improvement accounted for? A good guess might be something like this. Americans in general probably live a more healthful life now than they did in the last generation or two, taking more outdoor exercise, working shorter hours and getting better food. The knowledge of vitamins and the growing insistence on getting them, may have a good deal to do with it. The next generation will probably be still more vigorous and more resistant to the old-fashioned diseases.

Adolf Hitler is on a diet. He has greatly reduced his African front.

Fuel oil may be rationed in more than thirty states, but the weather isn't.

Our idea of nothing to worry about is whether our salary will be frozen at $25,000 a year.

Mussolini's new or wheezy form of oratory is even funnier than his former or tubboat-whistle brand.

The fight over the chairmanship of the GOP is additional proof that the old party is rarin' to go in 1944.

The women are now worried by a shortage of hairpins. A lot of men have been worried for years by a shortage of hair.

If the Japs had promised Hitler to invade Siberia when the Nazis took Stalingrad, perhaps they will now make a new agreement with der Fuehrer to evacuate the Philippines when the Nazis cross the Russian border in reverse.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

PARENTS' CLUBS AND FAMILY LIFE

THOUGH THE ideals of the state and national Congress of Parents and Teachers are centered about things not made with hands nor bought with price, many local PTA's are tempted to turn their attention to the things material and to forget, sometimes entirely, more important things.

Accordingly, the president and staff of the local unit often are encumbered with raising money in order to buy something for school—stage curtain, piano, uniforms for the school band and the like. Indeed some school principals seem to think of the PTA as a kind of Santa Claus.

Independent Groups

When the PTA is one in name only—not officially connected with the state and national body—the emphasis on things material is the more likely.

Sometimes independent groups of parents call themselves Mother's Club or Dad's Club. I have learned of relatively few such parent-subschool clubs that have aimed chiefly at promoting better parenthood and closer home-school relations. I once joined a Fathers' Club of a high school only to discover its purpose to be getting fathers out to the football games and banqueting the boys on the team. Not one meeting was devoted to better understanding and companionship in the home between parents and their boys.

I have found some notable exceptions, where there are fathers' clubs even in the elementary schools, organized and conducted with the major purpose of growing to be better fathers.

There are also very active mothers' clubs centered about understanding children and stimulating closer home - school - church cooperation. All these clubs emphasize better parenthood and happier family life and ever so many of the leading child experts of the localities have contributed time in leading these clubs.

Also in various parts of the United States are Mothers' Clubs which are chapters of some state, regional or national organization. Usually young mothers are members, and are earnestly studying the child and his development and ways and means of promoting a happy family atmosphere.

Subject For Study

It seems to me that right now, more than ever before, all parent groups should center their attention on better parenthood and more wholesome family life. Such groups wishing to study seriously will find much good material in their local public libraries and some will build up bookshelves for parents. I have prepared a selected list of books—for the preschool, elementary and high school levels, which may be had without cost to you by writing me at 233 East 45th street, New York City, with a three-cent stamp on it. In like manner individual parents, teachers and study clubs may secure copies of my numerous special bulletins.

A celebrated Irish Judge used to be fond of telling the story of a most amusing experience which he declared really happened. In all his stories, he used an exaggerated brogue.

"It was," he used to say, "down in Cork holding assizes. On the first day, when the jury came in, the officer of the court said: 'Gintelman av the jury, ye'll take yer accustomed places, if ye please' and may I never tell another if they didn't all walk into the dock."

PERT AND PERTINENT

"Not more than three percent of inmates in state prisons can play a musical instrument"—Which shows that Justice has been neglectful in the saxophone department.

"In police court a man testified that he didn't do anything, he just worked for the city"—The drive against perjury must be succeeding.

For they're standing to their duty from New Zealand up to Nome So that Christmas shall be certain for the children here at home.

They are fighting for His purpose: "Peace on earth, good will to men."

They are trusting us this season to keep Christmas once again And they're fairly pleading with us. If their voices we could hear, Let this Christmas Day be merry and don't spoil it with a tear.

It's for this they all are fighting, that the bells shall still be rung.

And the old-time Christmas carols shall by young and old be sung.

For the laughter of the children, and the sound of drum and horn And the stockings at the chimney on the blessed Christmas morn.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, recently inducted U. S. naval cadets: "Yours is the honor of silently giving the men who fought and fell in this war the traditional assurance that America has given her fallen heroes of every day—that they shall not have died in vain."

WASHINGTON—Paul V. McNutt, director of the War Manpower Commission, in announcing that everyone is a part of the nation's manpower pool and is likely to serve: "Anyone who tries to sit himself up as a prophet in this war is a fool."

LONDON—General Georges Catroux, Fighting French leader: "The Germans are resourceful. They are attacking hard in Tunisia and I shouldn't be surprised if they turn on Spain."

Boston Mayor To Be Probe Witness

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Dec. 9.—Mayor Maurice J. Tobin will be called before the "super" state-county investigation into the Cocoanut Grove fire-panic, which cost 495 lives, it was learned authoritatively today.

The mayor, it was expected, will be questioned concerning charges made at the city inquest that Baznett Welansky, owner of the night club, once boasted of having influence with the city's chief executive.

What if Roosevelt didn't have training in strategy. Hitler seems to have done pretty well without it.

Still, the Civil War showed that "typewriter generals" are at least as good as elected generals.

EDNA EILEEN WAITE TO MARRY CORP. M. MC EWEN

A. U. R. SOCIETY HEARS BOOK REVIEW

At a beautifully appointed announcement party, the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Edna Eileen Waite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waite of 12 North Lee avenue, and Corp. Harold Eugene McEwen of Fort Monmouth, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster McEwen of 112 North Ray street, was made known to a group of guests on Saturday evening at the bride-elect's home.

The news was cleverly told by means of individual white locks, embroidered with a tiny spray of pastel flowers, and inside were found pictures of the engaged couple—with the wording "December—1942." The unique favors distributed to each guest were the handwork of Mrs. J. L. Waite, aunt of the bride-to-be, and will serve as mementos of a most delightful occasion.

Suitable games were played during the leisure time that preceded, with Miss Delores O'Leary and Miss Helen Skelton capturing the prizes. As the concluding feature, the group was served a delicious buffet lunch from a table prettily decorated in keeping with the season. Mrs. Foster McEwen aided Mrs. Waite with the menu.

Seventeen Clubs In Youngstown Ordered Closed

YOUNGSTOWN, O. Dec. 9.—Fire Chief Michael J. Melillo, acting "to prevent anything like what happened in Boston," on Tuesday closed 17 night clubs because of fire hazards.

The chief also ordered "immediate correction" of less serious dangers in nine other night spots, three of them in downtown hotels and one at a South Side bowling alley.

"The public must be protected," Melillo said in listing specific reasons for closing the 17 places, among them some of the most popular places in town.

In every case where the taverns were instructed not to open tonight, fire department investigators found single instances or a combination of inward-opening exits, inflammable decorations, defective wiring and unmarked, blocked or insufficient exits.

Melillo's powers as fire chief were held to be strong enough to keep the taverns and night clubs closed until the fire hazards were corrected.

Almost 25 Per Cent Of Jap Merchantmen Sunk In Year Of War

By JOSEPH A. BORS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Approximately 25 per cent of Japan's vital merchant fleet has been sunk in the Pacific during the first year of war, Secretary of the Navy Knox said Tuesday.

The announcement was made by Knox at a press conference in which he amplified a recent statement by him in which he said that Nipponese losses in cargo vessels and troop transports were approaching the point of desperation and imperiling the security of the enemy's far flung bases.

The secretary stated that the Nipponese launched their attack on the United States with a powerful fleet and a merchant marine totalling about 6,000,000 tons.

The total of cargo and supply ships sunk by warships and subs of the United States was set by Knox at between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 tons or approximately 25 per cent of the enemy's merchant marine.

Depends On Shipping

The secretary said this loss obviously was serious in view of the fact that Japan "like England, is utterly dependent on shipping" both for the home front and for its many far flung Pacific bases.

Concerning the Aleutian campaign, Knox said that American planes are going over Jap held islands "every day and dropping a few eggs on them."

Asked whether the navy intended to leave the Japs on the western Aleutians, Knox commented wryly: "Not permanently—not the live ones."

The secretary also explained that the navy now has told virtually the whole story of the damage done by the Japanese in their attack on Pearl Harbor a year ago.

"Safe" Hiding-Place From Strafers Really Load Of Ammunition

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Lieut Bernard E. Scanlan of the U.S. Coastguard, described on Tuesday how he and two soldiers unknowingly hid behind a wagon loaded with ammunition while attempting to escape strafing planes during the North African invasion.

Lieut. Scanlan, who recently returned to the United States, told this story to the navy. The incident described occurred during early landing operations presumably off Casablanca when a party reached shore and were attacked immediately by several enemy planes.

"We of the shore party all made for cover, naturally," he reported. "I spotted a bulldozer—a small tractor used for towing purposes—leaped behind it for protection, but found two soldiers already there. It was a tight squeeze but I managed to squeeze in between them. After the strafing we learned that the bulldozer was connected with a wagon load of ammunition.... Imagine our embarrassment if the ammunition had been hit and exploded! Our secure shelter wouldn't have been so cozy."

Lieut. Scanlan, of Edwardsville, Ill., was in charge of landing boats from one of the Coast Guard transports.

"It was the darkest night I've ever seen," he recalled. "We knew of some shore batteries and a fortress atop which was a huge searchlight, but we had instructions to withhold all fire unless that searchlight was turned on, in which case

Store Charged With Price Violations

Large Washington Department Store Faces Charges By OPA On Price Law

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The first action of its kind, the office of price administration on Tuesday charged the Hecht Co., a large Washington department store, located almost within a stone's throw of OPA headquarters, with wholesale violations of price control regulations.

The OPA obtained a temporary restraining order against the firm and will go into court Dec. 11 for a hearing on a preliminary injunction to prohibit the Hecht company from further price law violations.

On OPA spokesman asserted that Tuesday's action will be followed by a nationwide survey of department stores and other establishments, although he disclosed that Washington, center of the United Nations war efforts, was the worst source of violations.

Elks Commandos
"Over The Top"
For Bond Sales

Monthly Meeting Shows Total
 Of $5755.60 For Month
 Of November For
 Bonds, Stamps

The Elks Commandos, met in The Elks Club rooms, Monday night for their November report. The proceeds totalled the sum of $5755.60 for bonds and war stamp sales.

Commander In Chief, Harold Blewitt, Col. Katherine Christopher, under the captaincy of Miss Lois Smith, brought in a profit of $70.00 on a turkey drawing; The Tank Corps, captained by Mrs. Virginia Copperthwaite, sold 120 dish clothes, the proceeds going toward the Commandos War Fund; The Artillery Unit, captained by Miss Nellie Ringen, sold 100 boxes of Christmas cards; The Paratroop Unit, captained by Mrs. Louella Moffatt, sold 132 dozen of doughnuts.

Various groups active and responsible in a great measure for this commendable goal, include the following: The Ski Patrol Unit, under the captaincy of Miss Lois Smith, brought in a profit of $70.00 on a turkey drawing; The Tank Corps, captained by Mrs. Virginia Copperthwaite, sold 120 dish clothes, the proceeds going toward the Commandos War Fund; The Artillery Unit, captained by Miss Nellie Ringen, sold 100 boxes of Christmas cards; The Paratroop Unit, captained by Mrs. Louella Moffatt, sold 132 dozen of doughnuts.

Three ton of scrap was donated to Croton school by the Flying Fortress Unit, under the captaincy of Mrs. Anna Colaluca. Other units also donated scrap, which totaled six and one-half tons.

The Elks Commandos also totaled the sale of 3000 boxes of cookies, and they have turned in 75 pounds of grease and fats, for war use.

As one of the projects undertaken, the Elks Commandos have ordered ten ping-pong tables, complete with all necessary equipment, which will be used in the recreation rooms of the Transfer Replacement Center.

The Commando boys are already active in hauling ashes, with the money received going into the war fund.

Each unit is "getting into a huddle" searching for new ideas, which they can convert into cash, helping Uncle Sam in every way possible, for an ultimate and final victory.

We aren't ready for casualties. It seems the hospitals are filled with broken-down old men who are fit only to fill the pension rolls.

Gas Ration Test Is "Yes And No"

Four Gallons For 60 Miles
Ample On Flats, But Not
For Traffic Driving

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah Dec. 9.—Mayor Ab Jenkins of Salt Lake City, who is one of the world's most famous speed drivers, disclosed today results of an experiment he made to test the government's estimate of four gallons of gas to take the average motorist 60 miles.

His answer was "yes and no." He used an ordinary model automobile for his experiment.

On the Bonneville Salt Flats at speeds under 35 miles an hour he was able to coast as much as 27 miles to the gallon from the car. Here the answer was "yes." The government's estimate was more than ample.

But in Salt Lake City traffic under normal driving conditions and with frequent starts and stops, the best he could do was only 10 miles to the gallon. Here the answer was "no."

Due to the size of the tire, it was impossible for the youngsters to carry it to the school. Finally, upon their insistence, that they did not want to help the Japs and lose the war, by not giving all in the drive, the school principal consented that an older pupil return home with them, and assist them in carrying the huge tire, which now is helping to beat the Japs.

Freshmen Rule Is Main Topic At Big 10 Meet

Chiefs Reluctant To Make Definite Decisions On '43 Activities

International News Service) CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—The freshman eligibility rule took the center of the stage today at the western conference winter meeting after a day of fruitless debate in informal conferences.

Some of the Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives favored reverting to the practice during the first World War when freshmen were permitted to compete on varsity teams. Others advocated allowing freshmen, sophomores and juniors to compete, but barring seniors.

The athletic chiefs were reluctant to make definite decisions on the 1943 wartime activities, preferring to postpone action on many problems until the situation was more clear.

They discussed yesterday about every sport on the collegiate calendar—swimming, gymnastics, fencing, golf, tennis, baseball, etc., with the general idea in mind of cutting game schedules and train travel and avoiding long trips.

Baseball for 1943 offered a pattern for the schedule makers to follow in other sports. The number of contests for each school was cut from 12 to 10 and the Big Ten was divided into an eastern and western division, with each school permitted to arrange one game in the other division.

Travers Named Baseball Agent Of Pennsy Vets

Commissioner Wants Calls From Local Baseballers Of 1905-1917 Period

Announcement was made today by Stanley Granger, president that County Commissioner Joseph F. "Jockey" Travers has been named Lawrence county representative of the Baseball Veterans' association of Pennsylvania.

Travers wants all players of the 1905-1917 period to get in touch with him at the court house up until 4:30 o'clock or at 1097 after six o'clock.

The commissioner is particularly interested in calls from:

Dave Riley, "Bill" Andrews, Sr., Jessie Coen, "Junk" Jones, Stan Jones, Earl Riley, Ray Rhodes, Dave Bivins, "Bill" Conner, Eddie Connery, Rube Jones, "Ducky" Guinagh, Sr., Jimmy Goodchild, Bob Grinnell, "Dip" McDaniel, or any others who played baseball between 1905 and 1917.

Prospects. Eagleson must admit, are not too discouraging.

The schedule follows:

Dec. 11—Brookfield, Ohio.

Dec. 15—Mercer.

Dec. 18—At Sharpsville.

Dec. 22—At Mercer.

Dec. 29—Alumni.

Jan. 5—At Mt. Jackson.

Jan. 8—Union.

Jan. 12—At Shenango.

Jan. 15—East Brook.

Jan. 19—At Bessemer.

Jan. 22—At Brookfield, Ohio.

Jan. 29—Wampum.

Feb. 2—Mt. Jackson.

Feb. 5—At Union.

Feb. 9—Shenango.

Feb. 12—At East Brook.

Feb. 16—Bessemer.

Feb. 23—At Wampum.

Mar. 2—Sharpsville.

A marked improvement was noted yesterday as the 29 aspirants enjoyed a long and strenuous drill.

Rope jumping, a perfect exercise for building legs, opened the activities.

The customary practice shots from all angles followed after which a temporary varsity club, comprised of "Bill" Andrews and Eddie Jacobs at forwards; John Zubkowsky at center; and Tony Razzano and Jim Fair, guards, sped through a list of offensive movements. Harvey Burriss, regular guard, was missing from the drill due to a foot injury.

"Zub"—Andrews Star

Zubkowsky and Andrews starred in the daily scrimmage. The pair was right in the groove, playing beautifully throughout. In addition to pocketing close to a dozen deuces between them, Zubkowsky and Andrews passed and fed the spheroid impressively.

Showings today and Thursday will have an important bearing on the varsity selection. Zubkowsky has cinched the center who seems to have an edge. Fair and Fred Wimer, another good looking flipper, are battling for the fifth position.

Friday's game, listed as a pre-season clash, starts at about 8. A preliminary, involving the Ne-Ca-Hi Reserves and George Washington varsity, begin at 7.

Pittsburghers got mixed in one of those arguments which wound up with "put up or shut up." Faller asks for the score, which is on its way.

A few months after the slant-eyes hit after the bell, a few superannuated gentlemen cleared their throats and blazed sports. Sports answers with more than $6,000,000 aggregated for the war agencies.

Money is important in a war. Then, why endeavor to squish an enterprise that can, with little or no effort whatsoever, raise more than $6,000,000? If these gentlemen can devise a way of gathering a similar sum, with the government on the outside of the promotion, let's ditch sports.

The donations come from the American public. The crowds chipped in by attending horse racing, boxing, professional football, baseball and other fund-raising sports. By their attendance fans voted affirmatively. Another $6,000,000 in 1943 would look pretty nice in the war relief kitties.

College football has proved the black sheep of the sport family.

While every sport has done its share, the rah-rah institutions, the holier than thou bracket, you know, sat back, grabbed the cheese and skipped away. Maybe they never heard of war relief kitties.

Over $6,000,000 Raised By Sports For War Agencies

Racing Is No. 1 In Parade With Contribution Of About $2,750,000

BASEBALL SECOND; DONATES $1,366,724

By JACK MAHON

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—One of the most colorful and thrilling events in the long history of sports is ending but before we close the record books for the last time we think it proper to pause a moment and consider just what the people of sports have done for war relief. Though no official figures are available, a conservative check by your correspondent revealed to-day more than $6,000,000 was raised by sports for various war charities during 1942.

The exact figure we arrived at was $6,006,724.00. While this is necessarily an approximate total, it is based on the latest reports made to various sports headquarters.

Racing First

Racing, baseball, boxing, professional football, golf, tennis and basketball were checked with the first named leading all the rest.

The turf committee of America, which handled the affairs of racing in connection with war relief, will not have its official report ready for about a week but a spokesman said today the amount would reach "nearly three million dollars."

For purposes of our table we credited racing with $2,750,000. Figures made available at the offices of the National League showed baseball had raised $1,366,724.00.

This represents the donations of the National League ($267,901.30) and American League ($255,327.70) plus a donation of $232,474.00 made by the minor leagues. Proceeds from the all-star game and world series and contributions to the ball and bat fund for the soldiers.

Golfdom certainly made a great showing with officials estimating a flat $1,000,000 would not be exaggerated. Some 5,000 clubs turned over $200,000 to the Red Cross for three days of play, especially arranged for May 30, July 4 and Labor Day. Exhibitions and tournaments raised $250,000 more. Various local and sectional tournaments and special matches provided about $500,000 more, said Fred Cochrane of the P.G.A.

Louis Does Part

Boxing had a big war year. Sgt. Joe Louis, two-time defenses at Madison Square Garden, plus the donation of Joe's own purses, launched the drive with approximately $155,000. While no figures are available for the rest of the country most observers believe $100,000 could easily be added to pugilist's credit balance.

The National Professional Football League reports that approximately $600,000 has been raised by the cash and carry pigskinners, to date, with returns from two or three more game and the Pro Bowl game to be audited while tennis and basketball have collected in the neighborhood of $40,000 so far.

College football is about the only major sport that hasn't seemed too anxious to do its part and, at this writing, it would appear the various bowl committees will adopt the same "Let George do it" policy.

This is the only shameful chapter in a sports log of 1942 of which every athlete and fan can be justifiably proud.

Athletes Continue To Smash Records

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—War or no war, American athletes continue on their merry way—breaking records. Up for verification before the National Amateur Athletic Union are 141 new standards in everything from pole vaulting to swimming. The AAU meets Friday to take action.

Track and field athletes continued to dominate the record-breakers with 57 new marks. Women swimmers had 51 and men swimmers 33 of the remainder. There were 193 new records in 1941 and an all-time high of 322 in 1940.

From the standpoint of numbers, Miss Gloria Callen, the photogenic swimmer, holds the No. 1 spot. Miss Callen, who swims the back stroke for the Women's Swimming Association of New York, has 19 new marks ready to enter the book.

Cornelius Warmerdam, the only man ever to pole vault 15 feet, is the leading male competitor but he was closely pressed by Bill Smith, the Hawaiian swimming wonder.

Warmerdam, who cleared 15 feet this year 26 times, is down for new marks of 15 feet 7 1/4 inches indoors and 15 7 3/4 outdoors.

Smith, who won three national outdoor championships, seeks records in the 4.40 of 4.39.6, and the half-mile, 9.54.6.

Connie Mack, Close To 80, Starts Process Of Rebuilding His Club

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—Just two weeks short of his 80th birthday, the venerable Connie Mack today once again began the laborious process of rebuilding his Athletics.

First step was the outright release of infielders Bill Knickerbocker, Eric McNair and Larry Eschen and Outfielder Mike Kreevich.

"They were not much help to us," Connie said bluntly in making the announcement, "and I've other men to take their places. We hope to get somewhere next year, you know."

At the same time, Mack revealed that the A's may also lose the services of Louis N. "Buddy" Blair, third baseman, who expects to be drafted soon.

The gentleman of the game isn't worried about replacements.

Plenty of Help

"We've plenty of help on the way," he pointed out. "Eddie Mayo, whom we drafted from Los Angeles, will be available for third base. At shortstop will be Dick Atkins and Pete Suder. Atkins was bought from our Wilmington farm. Irving Hall, rookie from Williamsport, will most likely play second base for us."

As for outfielders, we have plenty of replacements. Felix Mackiewicz, who has been around for several years, ought to develop into a great ballplayer."

Knickerbocker and McNair are 10-year men and entitled to their free agency. Kreevich has had years in the majors and Eschen came fresh from the campus of St. Lawrence university last summer.

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Harry Vance opened her home, in Thirteenth street, last night to members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church.

Mrs. Anna McKinley was in charge of business, with plans being made to send gifts of money to the church schools at Cincinnati and at Kimberlin, Tenn.

"America Needs Christ" was the program theme, with a paper on the topic being given by Mrs. Rhett Maskrey. "Message of the Bells" was given by Mrs. McKinley. The evangelist in New York City done by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cook.

Baseball, like all other sports, has contributed men to the war effort ever since before we actually entered the conflict, and more and more will be going from here on.

I still doubt that next season will be finished unless the war ends in the meantime, because of the drain on talent. What baseball we will have will be distinctly inferior to the kind we've been getting.

But there are players who actually must work at the game and they have a right to do it under the present setup. In other words until Mr. Whiskers decides otherwise.

Owners Can't Tell

And that brings us down to the point involved for the coming season. The club-owners won't be able to tell exactly what kind of a season they will have or how long it will last, and these two angles will be presented by the owners in their own behalf in their discussions with whatever talent they can muster.

A more important issue will be the benefit program that baseball will present for service funds of one kind and another, and if they foresee themselves giving away very much, they won't be inclined to listen to the players' plaints for more money or for smaller cuts.

The magnates undoubtedly will have some rights in this situation, but it will be the height of bad taste for any of them to suggest that money arguments will be a mark of a lack of patriotism on the part of the players.

Another thing in this connection is that the fans should attempt to

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The light-weight fighters of America today were faced with equal opportunities and an open fighting road to the lightweight title of the world.

This title, which has kicked around like a lost pawn ticket, was declared open to the highest bidder yesterday when President Abe Greene of the National Boxing Association declared his board would not recognize the Dec. 18 bout between Tipper Larkin, Garfield, N. J., and Beau Jack, Augusta, Ga., as a lightweight championship affair.

After a few days deliberation, President Greene and his associates decided to forget about the recent reactionary activities of the New York Boxing commission and let a national tourney, of its own selection, determine just who will succeed Sammy Angott, Washington, Pa., as champion.

Georgia Gridders Resume Practice

(International News Service)

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Harry Vance opened her home, in Thirteenth street, last night to members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church.

Mrs. Anna McKinley was in charge of business, with plans being made to send gifts of money to the church schools at Cincinnati and at Kimberlin, Tenn.

"America Needs Christ" was the program theme, with a paper on the topic being given by Mrs. Rhett Maskrey. "Message of the Bells" was given by Mrs. McKinley. The evangelist in New York City done by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cook.

Baseball, like all other sports, has contributed men to the war effort ever since before we actually entered the conflict, and more and more will be going from here on.

I still doubt that next season will be finished unless the war ends in the meantime, because of the drain on talent. What baseball we will have will be distinctly inferior to the kind we've been getting.

But there are players who actually must work at the game and they have a right to do it under the present setup. In other words until Mr. Whiskers decides otherwise.

Angles Are Numerous

Getting back to salaries, there is no telling what the contracts will be like for next season. The magnates already are studying the situation, looking ahead to what may be expected in crowds, how schedules will be affected by travel restrictions, whether the season will be curtailed at a big loss in revenues and dozens of other points. Player contracts will be based on those eventualities.

Another important issue will be the benefit program that baseball will present for service funds of one kind and another, and if they foresee themselves giving away very much, they won't be inclined to listen to the players' plaints for more money or for smaller cuts.

The magnates undoubtedly will have some rights in this situation, but it will be the height of bad taste for any of them to suggest that money arguments will be a mark of a lack of patriotism on the part of the players.

Another thing in this connection is that the fans should attempt to be fair-minded in their attitude toward the ball players. If Mr. Whiskers doesn't want an athlete there is no reason why he shouldn't go ahead playing ball, and there is nothing in the nature of this activity that should call for boos.

Anders Can't Tell

And that brings us down to the point involved for the coming season. The club-owners won't be able to tell exactly what kind of a season they will have or how long it will last, and these two angles will be presented by the owners in their own behalf in their discussions with whatever talent they can muster.

Librarian Suggests
Gift Book Titles
For Boys And Girls

A list of books suitable for Christmas gift giving to small children, children just starting to school and older boys and girls has been prepared by Miss Alice Joyce, junior librarian of the public library. Included in the list are a number of recently published books, all of which may be viewed at the library, and also new editions of a few titles which never lost their appeal.

Among those which Miss Joyce suggests for children of ages 4 to 6 are: Man Who Lost His Head, by Bishop; Marshmallow by Newberry; Here Comes Kristie by Brock; Jumpo by Bannerman; Pancho and the Bull by Hader; Tall Book of Mother Goose.

For children from 7 to 9, are suggested: Cinders by Gibson; A Day on Skates by Van Stockum; Just So Stories by Kipling; Mary Poppins by Travers; Middle Moffat by Estes; Susan's Safe Harbor by Eyre.

Older girls will enjoy: Gay Design by DeLeeuw; Singing Sisters by Long; Proud Lady by Crownfield; Sharon's Career by Hall; A Star for Ginny by Whitney; Winter's Mischief by Allee.

For older boys: Flying Furies by Asling; Jerry Foster, Salesman, by Ferris; Tall Hunter by Fast; Top Kick, U.S. Army Horse, by Watson; Knight of the Revolution, by Dean; Black Tanker by Pease.

Other lists, containing further suggestions, are available at the junior department and Miss Joyce will be glad to advise those who are considering giving books as Christmas gifts.
